

School of Public Health (SPHL)

Department of Family Science

Bachelor's - Family Science

- Students will evaluate policy and programmatic interventions to address social and behavioral factors that influence family well-being.
- Students will demonstrate the principles of cultural competence that shape the experiences and disparities of vulnerable families and populations.
- Students will present a research project that addresses a significant issue of family well-being.
- Students will critique the range of social structures and systems such as health, legal, and economic that affect family well-being.

Department of Public and Community Health

Bachelor's - Public and Community Health

- Students will demonstrate competence in applied electronic media literacy.
- Students will synthesize core competencies in the development and construction of a 5-hour unit plan.
- Students will be able to evaluate various methods of statistical analysis as applied to problems in human health.

Department of Kinesiology

Bachelor's - Kinesiological Science

- Students will apply and evaluate scientific principles of kinesiology (exercise physiology, exercise psychology, biomechanics, motor control and learning, and motor development) as a foundation for healthy living.
- Students will evaluate and synthesize the knowledge regarding the social, cultural, historic, and philosophical dimensions/context of physical activity.
- Students will describe and critically analyze the role of physical activity and its impact on health, society and quality of life
- Students will describe the role of kinesiology in advancing the goals of public health.